TELL US ABOUT YOURSELF

The following information is based on Holland's Theory of Career Choice.

Select the categories that describe you best and match the colour of those categories to the corresponding MHC programs.

Realistic You enjoy spending time outdoors, using tools to fix things, or working with animals, machines or equipment. Your favourite high school subjects may have been physical education, industrial arts, home economics or computers. You tend to use common sense to solve problems and appreciate work environments that are organized and structured. Your friends may describe you as practical, dependable, adventurous, or athletic.

Investigative You enjoy tasks that are mentally challenging, like to learn new things, and work well on your own. Your preferred work environments are indoors, task oriented and unstructured. You have a curious mind and love to research and analyze information, especially when it can be used to solve a problem. In high school, your favourite subjects might have been math, biology, chemistry or physics. Independent, thoughtful and original are some of the words your friends might use to describe you.

Artistic You love to be free-spirited and prefer activities that engage your creative side. Unstructured and flexible work environments are valued, and you enjoy observing and participating in a variety of artistic pursuits. You value your independence and see the beauty in everything around you. Some of your favourite subjects from high school may have been art, music, drama and English (creative writing). Your friends know you as a sensitive person who has an open mind and great imagination.

Social You care about people, value relationships and believe communication, trust and community are important. Motivated by helping and empowering others, you enjoy teaching, listening and solving problems in collaborative and supportive environments. Your favourite subjects from high school may have been English, social studies, health and biology. Your friends can always count on you and may describe you as patient, generous and idealistic.

Enterprising You are interested in taking on leadership roles and can be extremely persuasive. Ambitious and assertive, you likely excel in activities that appeal to your competitive nature. Math, business, law or social studies may have been your favourite subjects in high school. Your friends (and you probably have a lot of them) might describe you as energetic, adventurous, confident and talkative. You value success and strive to be the best at everything you do. You are also up for taking risks, especially if the rewards are big!

Conventional You are all about order and efficiency. Practical and precise, you prefer working indoors in structured and predictable environments. Your favourite subjects from high school might have been math, computers or English (grammar, spelling). Your friends may describe you as thrifty, respectful and patient. *COMPETITIVE ENTRANCE

Please note that some programs at Medicine Hat College follow a competitive admission process. This means that we receive more applications than there is space in the program and will admit students who possess the highest grades in the courses required for admission to that program. The minimum grade requirements listed for admission are rarely sufficient for a successful application.

Typically an average between 75-85% is necessary in order to be considered for admission into competitive programs. The competitive admission average cannot be determined in advance as it depends on the grades achieved by others who are also applying to the same program. Students who are interested in a competitive program are encouraged to apply as early as possible. All applicants to competitive programs will have an admission decision no later than June 1.
